OPENS WITH A TARIFF REFORM LOOMING AS WALL STREET SPECTER

Sugar Stocks Break Sharply on Prospect of Senate Bill Becoming a Law; Speculators Keep Their Eyes on Washington.

By International News Service. TEW YORK, July 29.-Weakness in certain high-priced specialties unsettled the stock market today and prices of standard issues were generally lower. The tobacco stocks were under selling pressure more of the day and some of the extreme losses were noted in them, but it was not so much the break in these issues that attracted attention as the sharp decline in sugars.

Both American Sugar Refining and American Beet Sugar only recently were subjects of bull tips and each responded to a satisfactory degree to these tips Today they broke sharply on the likelihood that the sugar tariff bill is soon to become a law.

hood that the sugar tariff bill is soon to become a law.

In addition to the presumption that the so-called sugar trust would be adversely affected by the placing of sugar on the free list, there was the talk of new competition entering the sugar business. The corporation of a new company by young Horace Havemeyer last week and the rumor that he was about to enter into offensive and defensive alliance with the Arbuckles and the Spreckels, gave rise to that. Then, too, it was suggested in many quarters that the passage of the Bristow sugar bill can be interpreted only as a victory for these interests. Mr. Spreckels, especially, has been a chama victory for these interests. Mr. Spreckels, especially, has been a cham-pion of free sugar.

The imminence of a reduction of the tariff on sugar naturally caused the entre question of tariff reform to loom up more prominently. The La Foliette wool bill reached the house today and that body rejected all of the senate's proposed amendments. The bill will now go to conference. Chairman Underwood announced that the cotton schedule would come up next week. Thus it would seem that a determined effort is being made to obtain tariff legislation before the present congress adjourns.

Discussion of the various reports submitted by different members of the Stanley committee was less prominent today, but Steel common ranged lower most of the day, after opening firm. The fear of a revision of the steel schedule was perhaps of greater influence in depressing the market for Steel shares than the Stanley report.

Copper stocks were easier in sympathy with the casier market for the metal. The market for most railway shares was soft.

A notable exception to the general soft.

A notable exception to the general weakness was National Biscuit, which recovered a good deal of the recent loss.

Wall street will be considerably interested tomorrow in the report of quarterly earnings to be given out by the United States Steel corporation, because it is expected to set at rest all talk regarding the corporation's ability to pay the common dividend.

IN CHICAGO MARKET

Experts See New Light in Rust Danger; Corn and Oats Advance in Price.

CHICAGO, July 29.-Conceded possibil

CHICAGO, July 23.—Conceded possibility of black rust damage to a greater extent than previous estimates put the wheat market today on the up grade. Closing prices were firm at #@rc to #onet advance.

Experts seemed to have seen new light regarding rust danger if the weather were to take an unfavorable turn. Humld days, it was said, quickly would produce a serious condition, especially in bluestem fields, where the grain needs two weeks more to mature. Export sales of thirty boatloads helped offset the early bearish effects of fine cool winds in the spring crop belt and of huge receipts southwest. September fluctuated from 95% to 94% with last sales 94%, a jump of #@rc above the level of forty-eight hours before.

Extreme heat and inadequate rainfall in Kansas and Oklahoma, where corn is in tassel, made the price of that cereal take a rapid ascent. September ranged from 55% to 56%, closing strong 14%1%c up at 66%c. Cash grades were firm. No. 2 yellow, 74%74%c.
Oats advanced in sympathy with corn. It was also said the bearish showing in receipts would be reversed in a short time. High and low points touched by September were 23%c and 22%c with the close %c up at 33%c.

Support from packers lent steadiness to the provision market despite larger arrivals of hogs than were looked for. At the end of the session prices for the most part ruled within 5c either way of the figures current at the previous close.
